Question:	What did you like about the course?
Response Rate:	58.33% (7 of 12)

1	has structural organization	🔍
2	The professor took his time with any and every student. He was quick with responding to emails and grading tests. The professor's attitude was very professional, yet friendly.	🔍
3	The effort the teacher made to help his students.	🔍
4	I think the professor did a good job of engaging the students, especially for a 7:30 am class. He put in his own money to make the learning easier to follow and more visual for his students so that really enhanced the learning experience. The material was presented in a way that was helpful and the prof. always encouraged the students to ask questions	🔍
5	I really liked the fact that exams were not held on webwork and were instead held in the traditional format but just over lockdown browser.	🔍
6	I liked that the class had a plan to go along with. Professor England writes everything the class is going to go over on the whiteboard and also posts updates in announcements.	🔍

3	NA	🔍
4	N/A	🔍
5	I think that the only thing I would say is I wish we were able to do more peer-to-peer interactions instead of just solely lectures.	🔍
6	I mean, it wasn't Professor England's fault it was zoom only.	🔍

Question:	What did you like about the instructor or the method of instruction?
Response Rate:	58.33% (7 of 12)

1	he tries to be on track with the schedule	🔍
2	Teaching method.	🔍
3	Like previously stated, the professor was very professional with his manner of teaching. He was friendly and encouraging. Lastly, he made the material interesting by relating it to real world topics.	🔍
4	Lengths taken to help his students using her personal time and money.	🔍
5	I liked that Professor England went out of his way to try and get people involved in this course and make multivariable calculus interesting. He bought a clear dry erase board and set up mirrors so that he could make classes more entertaining and easy to follow. He had a see-through board that had glowing expo markers. He could see the computer screen and never had his back to the class. He did all of this out-of-pocket too. From what I heard it cost him several thousand dollars.	🔍
6	I like that he encourages the students to learn the material on their own and promotes the use of his fancy set up as it really helped to keep the attention and make the lectures more interesting.	🔍
7	He was willing to listen and work to help the class as a whole succeed	🔍

Question:	What did you dislike about the instructor or method of instruction? Do you have any suggestions to improve instruction?
Response Rate:	58.33% (7 of 12)

1	he presents as hostile to student questions. he will get angered by improper grammar, dumb questions, obvious questions, and confusing questions.	🔍
2	There were times he would waste some class time and go on 10-20 minute talks about stuff that wasn't necessarily off topic but not necessary helpful to us.	🔍
3	The instructor was a bit too harsh on students with technical difficulties and personally, I think that the lockdown browser requirements were a little bit over the top and unessecary, or that he was too particular about it and it felt hard to meet the standards required.	🔍
4	Nothing	🔍
5	NA	🔍
6	N/A	🔍
7	I didn't dislike much of it.	🔍
